guests from afar

World famous scientists and scholars, including Nobel Laureates, will converge on Montreal during Expo '67 to participate in the NORANDA LECTURES to be delivered through the term of the exhibition.

International figures who have already confirmed their intention to be present, along with their lecture dates, and subjects where known, include: Prof. Louis Armand, France, Engineer & Administrator, (Lecture date - October 2); Prof. H. Bondi, United Kingdom, Astronomer, (September 18), "Cosmology, Enduring and Changing Features"; Sir Frank Macfarlane Burnet, Australia, Nobel Prize Winner in Medicine, (June 12), "Immunological Tol: Its Bearing on Transplantation & Autoimmune Disease"; Prof. H. B. G. Casimir, Netherlands, Dir. of Research - The Philips Co., (May 15), "Low Temperatures and their Applications"; Prof. Carl J. Friedrich, Germany, Political Scientist, (August 21), "Man and His Government"; Dr. Augustus B. Kinzel, U.S.A., Research Manager - Pres. of the Salk Institute, (July 17), "Industrial Research - Why, How, and What"; Prof. Karl Lowith, Germany, Prof. of Philosophy, University of Heidelberg, (October 16), "Progress a Fatality"; Dr. Eric Martin, Switzerland, Medical Research Scientist, (September 25); Prof. Karl G. Myrdal, Sweden, Economist, (May 22); Prof. Hossein Nasr, Iran, Authority on Islamic Philosophy and Theology, (September 11); Mr. K. Helveg Petersen, Denmark, Authority on Adult Education, (June 26), "New Trends in Education"; Prof. Wm. Robson, United Kingdom, Jurist, Pol. Scientist & Public Administrator, (August 28); Mr. Khushwant Singh, India, Author, (July 3), "Orient Pearl in the World Cyster"; Mr. Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgium, Belgium's Foreign Minister, (May 1); Barbara Ward (Lady Robert Jackson), United Kingdom, Author & Economist, (June 5), "A New History"; Dr. John Tuzo Wilson, Canada, Geophysicist, (May 8), "Terre des Hommes"; Dr. Wm. Barry Wood, Jr., U.S.A., Microbiologist, (June 19); Prof. Bruno Zevi, Italy, Architect-Urbanist, (June 23).

The lecture series is being sponsored by Noranda Mines Limited, with the company paying each lecturer a suitable honorarium and transportation costs to and from Montreal.

Should any of the lecturers be invited to speak on the University of Alberta campus during their time in Canada, the departments extending the invitation would be responsible for additional honorarium and transportation costs, and for negotiating visits directly with the lecturers. The company secretary is D. Hunka, in care of DuPont of Canada Auditorium, Canadian Corporation for the 1967 World Exhibition, McKay Pier, Montreal, Quebec.

who goes to U?

Students from working-class families are greatly under-represented at Canadian universities, says a report released recently by the Canadian Union of Students. High income "white-collar" families, which make up 23.3 per cent of the Canadian population send 48% of the students to the 47 Canadian universities and colleges surveyed in February, 1965. The "blue-collar" families, which make up 64.1 per cent of the population according to Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures, send a little over a third (35%).

Dr. Ronald H. Gooding has joined the department of entomology as an assistant professor and has special interests in insect biochemistry and toxicology. He comes to the University from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, after taking his undergraduate work here and post-graduate work at Rice Institute and Johns Hopkins.

JOHN E. BRADLEY

The Board of Governors of The University of Alberta, as constituted under the new Universities Act, is comprised of representatives from the University, business, and industry.

Its Chairman is John Edward Bradley, M.D., who is not only widely known to the Edmonton community, but to a host of graduates who made his acquaintance as member of the executive committee and as vice-president and president of the General Alumni Association of The University of Alberta.

Dr. Bradley graduated from the U. of A. with a degree in medicine in 1940, and served with the R. C. A. F. during World War II. In 1946 he founded the Wainwright Medical Clinic, and in 1960 was appointed medical officer and manager of the Medical Services Department with Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated. In 1964 Dr. Bradley became the executive director of the Glenrose Provincial General Hospital in Edmonton.

From 1964 to date, Dr. Bradley has been an ex-officio member of the Senate of The University of Alberta and a member of its Board of Governors. A recent appointment has him serving on an advisory committee on nursing and nursing education to the Minister of Health.

Recognizable by his engaging personality and demonstrated competency, Dr. Bradley is warmly welcomed by "Folio" to the position of eminence and importance as new chairman of the Board of Governors of The University of Alberta.

It is our very sad duty to report the untimely death on July 12, of Dr. G. M. Dunlop.

Professor Dunlop was born in Saskatchewan where he obtained his elementary and high school education and later graduated with a B. A. from the University of Saskatchewan. Subsequently he took his M. A. from Alberta and the Ph.D. from Columbia. He joined the staff of the Edmonton Normal School in 1928 and has been intimately associated with teacher education in this province ever since. Prior to 1928 he taught in Alberta and served briefly also as Inspector of Schools.

The Summer Session owes a great deal to Dr. Dunlop. He was its Director from 1947 to 1950, relinquishing the position to become head of the newly established Department of Educational Psychology. During the past sixteen years it has been a rare Summer Session indeed that has not found him on Campus actively supervising the activities of his department and usually teaching a course himself.

Untold numbers of students will best remember Dr. Dunlop as a vigorous and dedicated teacher. In spite of an increasingly heavy burden of administrative responsibilities associated with a rapidly expanding department with heavy graduate commitments, he has continued to carry an unusually heavy teaching load. It was indeed typical of the man that in spite of illness, more serious than he realized, he struggled to class on the first two days of the current Summer Session. In fact his last service, given at immense cost to himself, was to return to his office last Wednesday morning to brief a substitute instructor so that his students would be reasonably well prepared to face their preliminary examination. He was fatally stricken that afternoon.

Dr. Dunlop planned to retire at the end of August. His many friends and acquaintances will regret that he was not spared to enjoy at least a few years of retirement. To his wife, Gwen, and his son, Richard, and his family, we send our sincerest sympathy.

Faculty Notes

At a recent annual conference of the Canadian Library Association, three library staff members were elected to office: Mr. G.G. Turner, Assistant Librarian, to the Council of the Association, Mr. Sidney Harland, Assistant Librarian, Treasurer of the Canadian Association of College and University Libraries; Mr. Denys Noden, Chief Cataloguer, as a Councillor of the Technical Services Section of the Association.

Four prominent Alberta educators are contributors to Collier's Encyclopedia, the 24-volume general reference work. They are: John E. Dutton, Chairman of the Alberta Library Board, Public Library of Lethbridge, whose article discusses the history, geography, government and politics, economics, cultural and social activities in Alberta; Dr. Frederick G. Heymann and the Chairman of the Department of History, Dr. L.G. Thomas, both Professors of History at The University of Alberta, who have contributed articles on prominent men in Canadian history; and Bruce Braden Peel, chief librarian at The University of Alberta, whose articles deal with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the University of Saskatchewan.

The most comprehensive study of academic library resources ever undertaken in Canada was launched in June by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada and the Canadian Association of College and University Libraries. Financed largely by a grant from the Canada Council, the study will look into present resources of university and college libraries, cooperation between libraries, the possibilities for automation in libraries, administrative practices, services offered by academic libraries, and financial support. It is intended that the report will offer guidelines for academic library development to 1980.

A team of four will undertake the study. Director of the team is Dr. Robert B. Downs, Dean of Library Administration of the University of Illinois.

Associated with Dr. Downs in the study will be Bruce Peel, Chief Librarian of The University of Alberta. Mr. Peel is author of A Bibliography of the Prairie Provinces to 1953 and co-author of The Saskatoon Story, 1882-1952. Mr. Peel is president of the Canadian Association of College and University Libraries and a member of the National Research Council's Associate Committee on Scientific Information.

Dr. F.L. Jackson has been appointed Head of the Department of Bacteriology.

Dr. Hermansen is in Europe during the summer. He will be investigating manuscripts at the British Museum.

Dr. T.S. Leeson, head of the department of anatomy, is hoping to introduce closed-circuit television on the electron microscope in August. This would be a first time in Canada.

Dr. G.R. Eastwood, Department of Educational Foundations, has been invited by the University of the Pacific to participate in the Pacific Philosophy Forum. He will present one of the counterthesis papers at the Forum to be held at Stockton, California in June, 1967.

The Alberta Horticultural Association in cooperation with the Alberta Florists' Association, the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the Alberta Faculty of Agriculture, and the University Department of Extension plans to hold its second Alberta Horticultural Week from August 8 - 13 inclusive at the Alberta Agricultural and Vocational College at Olds.
